

BRIDGING
THE GAP
WITH DIGITAL MAIL
MANAGEMENT

MAIL MATTERS BUT CHANNELS ARE CHANGING

Physical or digital, it's a vital communication channel. Handling both channels creates complexity and cost. We can help you bridge the digital gap and improve the performance of both.

Although digital continues to grow and physical mail volumes are decreasing, most businesses will need to support both physical and digital operations as long as vital information enters the business that way. So for today's businesses, managing multiple communications channels is a necessity and a challenge. Swiss Post Solutions (SPS) bridges the digital gap managing mail whatever the channel including complex hybrid environments. We help organisations optimise their traditional mailroom, migrate to Digital Mail and Paperless Office to integrate communications across channels and across the organisation.

TOWARDS A DIGITAL FUTURE

Mailroom performance must track business needs and client expectations, with a clear pathway to digital.

STANDARD

- Inconsistent processes
- Duplication
- Simplistic/excessive SLA's
- Multiple suppliers
- Poor training/promotion prospects
- High and fixed costs
- Standard postage rates paid
- Little or no management information

BUSINESS IMPACT

- Slow processes
- Slow response times
- Increased risk
- Cost inefficiency

OPTIMISED

- Standardised relevant processes
- Suitable location strategy
- SLA's aligned to business goals
- Trained and motivated staff
- Single point of ownership
- Postal discounts
- Detailed management information

BUSINESS IMPACT

- Improved cost efficiency
- Consistency of service
- Better user experience
- Lower management burden
- Flexible service

Though the use of paper is declining, studies show that there is still a significant amount of correspondence conducted via paper.

However, paper volume will continue to decline and a larger proportion will originate in digital format and remain in digital format throughout its life cycle.

OPTIMISE

IS YOUR TRADITIONAL MAILROOM KEEPING PACE WITH YOUR BUSINESS?

The importance of handling mail efficiently has become even more important now it's set against expectations of instant access to information and fast response times. A 21st century multi-channel business needs a physical mailroom that handles both incoming and outgoing mail in a way that supports business goals like higher customer satisfaction ratings, not just simple SLA's. If the mailroom doesn't evolve, it could be a weak link.

Optimise your Mailroom

The mailroom plays a core role, but it's not your core business. Expert management takes away the operational responsibility, so you can focus on the content.

Mailroom Management from SPS deploys people, processes and technology in the most effective way to optimise performance. Because we operate the industry's largest mailroom database we can benchmark against similar operations and make sure that your mailroom performs to the very best standard in the market.

There's a choice of delivery options and a flexible approach supported by the experience and expertise that comes from over 90 years managing mailrooms for some of the world's most demanding organisations.

What's more important in today's environment, is that we understand document processes and the role that mail plays in them. That means we see managing mail as more than simply a logistical task and while we are confident that we can save you money, it won't be at the cost of performance.

Swiss Post Solutions operates over 500 mailrooms worldwide and handles around 120 million items of mail for clients each year.

«We value Swiss Post Solutions as a reliable partner and provider of high quality solutions who delivers full-service document logistics tailored to our needs. This enables us to focus on our core business.»

DIGITISE

MAKING THE MOVE TO DIGITAL

In a digital world, handling paper leads to slower processes, slower response times, higher risk, lower customer satisfaction levels and less productive staff. The challenge for businesses is to mitigate the impact of paper so that back office processes can run efficiently. Also to manage the practicalities of resourcing, prioritising and implementing a move to digital, while taking care of day to day business.

A Digital Doorway to your Business

Digitising incoming mail as it enters the business means that you can support paper and other channels like e-mail and SMS, without compromising efficiency and service quality. Customers can still use their channel of choice but you have all the advantages of a digital back office. Implementing a Paperless Office is a key step towards a digital future, opening the door to automation and the benefits of Artificial Intelligence and Robotic Process Automation. Outgoing communications can still be sent as hard copy, if that's the customer's preference.

SPS provides the expertise to plan your migration to digital mail and helps you prioritise if you want to do it in stages. We use a tried and tested technology platform that is genuinely easy to implement and simple to use but robust, providing day to day visibility of activity and a full audit trail. Our service covers the process from end to end, reducing the management overhead and removing the risk caused by gaps in ownership.

The Digital Mail Service can be delivered on site or from SPS' secure and certified Document Processing Centres (DPC's) where it is supported by full disaster recovery, minimising risk to both information and business continuity. This shared service environment provides segmentation but also the ability to flex with peaks and troughs of activity and absorb additional volumes as the shift to digital accelerates.

DIGITAL MAIL

TRACK THE IMPACT ACROSS YOUR BUSINESS

COMPLIANCE

Auditability

Documents are visible and trackable from the moment they are scanned in the mailroom

Increased Agility

Digital organisations can respond quickly to changes in legislation or regulatory requirements thanks to instant access to archived information

Eliminate Process Gaps

Scanning in the mailroom reduces the risk of documents falling into compliance gaps between departments

COST MANAGEMENT

Impressive ROI

CapGemini research has shown 96% of respondents reported a positive ROI from process improvements after digitisation

Departmental Saving

Savings made in departmental operations can be up to 10 times the savings made in mailroom operations

Flexibility

Outsourcing offers the opportunity for transaction based pricing so costs can flex if volumes change

Headcount Reduction

Automating administration means staffing budgets can be reduced or used to support more knowledge workers

Cuts Archiving Costs

Most documents can be held in digital format only, bringing major reductions in archiving and retrieval costs

CUSTOMER CENTRICITY

Collaboration

Digital information is much easier to share between departments and locations – a must for call centres and shared service teams

Supporting Channel Choice

Digitisation means customer communication from all channels can be combined to give a 360 degree view of operations

Faster Complaint Handling

Complaints can be handled and resolved more quickly, therefore customer satisfaction improves

Faster Order Processing

Routing applications and orders straight into workflows improves the customer experience through increased speed and accuracy

CASE STUDY

SWISS POST

The Swiss Postal and Logistic Service Provider outsourced its internal mail service to Swiss Post Solutions

Challenge:

- The relocation of Swiss Post's headquarters to a new open plan building meant less storage space for paper
- The need to support new ways of working with access to information at any time from any location
- 550,000 queries per year (of which only 120,000 are in a structured format) which need to be processed quickly
- 1,800 digital mail system users

Solution:

- The management of incoming physical mail
- Digitisation of incoming mail
- Automatic transfer of information into existing workflow systems

Benefits:

70% of unstructured information now enters the business digitally.
Further benefits were:

- Faster response times in business operations
- Supports mobile and flexible working
- Reduced paper consumption, document duplication and internal post costs
- Maximised efficiency in the business processes

INTEGRATE

THE NEXT STEP ON YOUR DIGITAL JOURNEY

For organisations looking to accelerate performance in business processes a fully integrated inbound communication solution will take communication management to the next level. When digitisation is integrated with business processes and applied to high profile workflow on boarding, or complaints handling, it enhances performance significantly. Businesses have full visibility across processes, can allocate tasks dynamically, monitor progress, manage escalations and ensure that promised response times are adhered to.

Digital businesses are agile businesses. They can respond quickly to regulatory changes like GDPR and they can take full advantage of new technologies like Artificial Intelligence and Robot Process Automation which handle repetitive processes quickly and accurately.

Optimise, Digitise or Integrate – Take the next Step

Whatever stage you're at, SPS can help. IDC's Next-Generation Digital Mailroom study shows an inevitable progression towards digital. In the meantime, managing the hybrid environment puts a strain on resources both in terms of costs and management time. SPS provides practical solutions and strategic expertise to support organisations with mail transformation, informed by expertise in new technologies.

Translating Vision into Action

Getting the implementation right is the foundation for a successful service and relationship. We work with our clients to understand their requirements and translate them into a clearly defined service with agreed outcomes and measurable KPIs. What makes Swiss Post Solutions unique?

Buying Power

The scale of our third-party spend allows us to negotiate unrivalled tariffs that offer major savings for our clients. The total value of our spend also gives us major account status with suppliers, which our clients benefit from even if they have relatively small spends themselves.

Independence

We have groups of suppliers that we work with and continually assess, but we do not have single preferred suppliers with exclusive arrangements, as we always want to ensure a healthy level of competition with a key focus of always acting in the best interests of our clients.

Expertise

As a specialist we invest in management who have detailed knowledge and experience in key 3rd party markets. Our Centres of Excellence scheme ensures that this know how is available to all our Client Service Managers and is constantly monitored and updated.

95% of our clients renew their contracts.

«Swiss Post Solutions is keeping its promises.
We have not had a single discussion on SLA
fulfilment over the years.»
